My name Daniel Ouma,

I take this opportunity share my life before I knew Christ with you. It was Saturday of 26/10/2019 that pastor John invited me to the town hall of Rongo, telling me that He had a guest teacher who was going to share the gospel. Because John has been a nice guy to me and I respect him a lot, I took my time that day. [..]He knew very well that I was not a believer of God, since I have been serving under my religion since I was young with the legio maria .

[The meeting started] and I wondered how different things were here [right] from the beginning, because the man of God prayed with us and I felt there was a brotherhood here!

Because I have never known anything about the bible or even reading it, I wondered that most of the people who [were there] understood [..] the pastor of the phone.

My attention was all on what John was translating, [that] which was being preached, and I was caught so much by the preaching when preacher talked about how much God showed love to the world, so that we can be with peace in the life. [That] we [are] to live and [not] condemn anyone, that He/she was not loved by God. I felt like a very cold wind was blowing into my heart, and when I remembered the life am going through in my house, I started to shiver and my bones felt tired. The preacher talked about many books that touched me directly into my life and where I was sitting, I started asking myself if Simeo Ondeto that I have been worshiping was God, how has he showed love to us like the one the preacher is talking about?

He was living in Luo land just as other men, how [come he did] not even die for one to be free?

As I was asking myself the questions, the picture of my house and how am living came to my sense. My wife sells onions and through this business we have had endless wars, that one time my sons daughter talked to us about it, which is a taboo. My wife has a lot of men that spend with her and this has caused my marriage to almost end. When this man on the phone was talking he said, ”the devil comes to kill, steal and destroy, but Jesus come to give life and give it much more.”

I saw how much the Satan has worked to frustrate me, such that I was almost committing suicide some time by jumping over the bridge.

After the meeting I decided to follow Jesus, and I tell you that since I started this new walk, I changed my ways. I did not share with my wife because I know how rude she is. When she saw how I have changed, and left the wars and abuses, she told me she has left all she was doing because I have stopped frustrating her. I did not know that due to my frustrations, that made her be with other men outside. She stopped it, and even called the man and talked to him when I was there, that she wanted a peaceful marriage.

I really want to preach like David someday, so I can also help some people who are suffering. My family all are waiting for the next meeting and the 5 of us will be there.

AMEN
